

LETTER OF INVITATION

September 8th , 2023

To Whom It May Concern:

This letter serves as an official invitation for a delegation from the SinoProbe Lab, Chinese Academy of Geological Sciences (CAGS), to visit our company headquarters at 222 Vista Avenue, Pasadena, California 91107, in the period December 3 - 8, 2023. KINEMATRICS is the main seismic solution provider for famous professional programs such as GSN, USArray/TA, or SAGE funded by NSF. The purpose of this visit is to discuss advances in seismic observation technologies, data processing, and opportunities for our contribution to CAGS future scientific projects. We will also host a company visit and a seismic observatory visit.

It is known to us that the delegation will also visit the nearby California Institute Technology in Pasadena, California.

We understand that all expenses associated with this visit will be covered by the CAGS and no remuneration will be provided to the members of the delegation.

We are looking forward to meeting the distinguished members of the delegation in December this year. These members are:
